a For years ending December 31.

1 State-level data exclude federal inmates.

2 Includes both jail and prison inmates (state has combined jail and prison system).

3 Numbers are for custody rather than jurisdiction counts.

4 The transfer of responsibility for sentenced felons from the District of Columbia to the federal system was completed by year end 2001.

Since June 30, 2000, the inmate population in the District of Columbia has dropped by 5,825 inmates. Approximately 58 percent of the growth in the federal system in the last 6 months of 2001 was the result of this transfer of responsibility.

5 1990 data are for custody counts; thereafter, jurisdiction counts are reported.

1 In 2003, legislation was enacted enabling the Department of Correctional Services to grant Presumptive Release to eligible inmates. The first releases of this type occurred in FY 2003-04, when there were 155 such releases. There were 1,884 Presumptive Releases during FY 2004-05 and 2,043 during FY 2005-06. Presumptive Releases are supervised by the Division of Parole until discharged.

2 In FY 2005-06, legislation re-established the Division's responsibility for the release and supervision of selected inmates from local jails.

3 Dynamic population is the cumulative number of parolees who are under supervision at some point during the year. Beginning in FY 1995-96, the 1995 Sentencing Reform Act authorized the early release of inmates
